ELECTRIC DISPLAY FOR INAUGURATION.

Public Parks and Found By-Law Up Again—Resignation of Alderman McLeod—Uniforms for Firemen.

The city council met last evening, present, the Mayor, Aldermen May, Clark, Fraser, Griesbach, Pleard, Bellamy and Boyle. Before the minutes were read Mr. Wm. Short asked the privilege of addressing the council upon the matter of a public park. He said that the Frederick Howland property of about fifty acres lying between the Saskatchewan river and Rat Creek ravine, was now in possession of Mr. J. W. Morris who was willing to sell it to the city for park purposes at $25 per acre. Mr. Short said this property if not purchased by the city would pass into other hands and the chances were that no better opportunity would come to the city to secure so admirable a piece of land for park purposes, as it was well situated and well wooded.

The whole question of parks was discussed at some length. Alderman Bellamy favored small parks as breathing places in the heart of the city. Alderman May suggested that the Methodist mission property on the face of the hill with a beautiful outlook, be acquired. They were all favorable to parks and thought this offer should be given every consideration. On motion of Aldermen Griesbach and May the matter was referred to the streets and parks committee to report at the next meeting.

The minutes of the last meeting were then read and confirmed.

Mr. Kennedy appeared before the council to say that on the suggestion of City Solicitor Beck a sale or grant of the part of the street required by the inclined railway, or hoist, company, instead of a lease, would absolutely relieve the city from any liability in case of an accident on this hoist.

It was moved by Alderman Clark, seconded by Alderman Fraser, that the council accept the suggestion of Mr. Beck and arrange for closing part of First street for the purpose of transferring to the inclined railway company the land required for the erection of their hoist, and that the agreement be changed in accordance with the same and notice published. Carried.

A communication from Mr. J. W. Morris offering his property for park purposes, upon the conditions discussed by Mr. Short. The communication was referred to the streets and parks committee.

A communication was read from the secretary of the board of trade asking for $1,000 being balance of grant of $2000 made to the board of trade at the first of the year. On motion of Alderman May and Pleard the money was ordered to be paid.

A communication was read from Mr. E. T. Fisher, secretary of the inaugural celebration committee asking that the city supply free electric energy for electric decorations upon September 1 when the business men of the city purpose greeting for that day. Also that the city's electric lines assist the decoration committee for the purpose of arranging lights on a decorative arch on the main street, and requesting that all business places be closed by civic proclamation of the evening of August 31.

It was moved by Aldermen Fraser and Pleard that the request of the inaugural committee for light for decorative purposes and the service of the city electricians be granted, and that free light be given all citizens free for August 31 and September 1, meters to be read before and after the dates. Carried.

A petition signed by some seventeen citizens praying for the removal of the pound from its present premises, giving as a reason that the cows when placed in durmex vile, make Yorkton, N.W.T., August 11.—The Doukhobors are again on the march ostensibly in search of Jesus and clad only in nature's garments. Sixteen men, sixteen women and four children arrived on the outskirts of the town last evening and divested themselves of their entire clothing which they burned. Word was telephoned in and Sgt. Jungett, of the North West Mounted Police with a posse, two drays and a quantity of blankets proceeded to the scene. The Doukhobors vigorously protested against the police orders to clothe themselves, but were finally forced to cover at least portions of their anatomy and were brought in and lodged in the police cells in the court house.

A DISPLAY OF FARM PRODUCTS

The Bulletin is desirous of making a window display of Alberta farm products for Inauguration Day, September 1st, and will be greatly obliged if friends throughout the country will send or bring to the office samples of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables grown during the present season. There will be thousands of visitors in Edmonton on Inauguration Day and the opportunity should not be lost to impress upon them the capabilities of Alberta. For a decade the Bulletin has been telling the world about the qualities of Alberta's soil and climate. We would like now to demonstrate in this practical way that our claims have been justified. Samples brought in will be labelled with the name and address of the producer, will be taken care of and returned if so desired. The season will be sufficiently advanced to make possible a display of ripe grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables of all kinds, native and cultivated and we rely upon our friends to co-operate in making this exhibit thoroughly worthy the occasion and representative of the agricultural resources and progressive farmers of the district.

What Mr. Haultain Thinks of Himself

To the Editor of the Bulletin:

Dear Sir—

I have lately been asked from many parts of the country to make a statement on the present political position of the Territories. My first inclination was not to do so, but as so many newspapers, not altogether friendly, have been undertaking to define my position for me I have thought it might be more satisfactory to my friends and not interesting to the public to learn my opinions from myself. For these reasons I have prepared the following statement and for the second reason ask you for the privileges of your columns.

THE PARTY-LINES QUESTION.

On the 22nd of April, 1905, I was asked in the Legislature to explain to the members how far my position and opinions were affected by the party-lines resolution passed by the Moose Jaw convention on the 22nd March, just one month earlier. I replied in part as follows:

"From the earliest time in the history of this House there has been a practically unanimous opinion on the part of the country that this House in addressing itself to the business entrusted to it should not introduce questions, names and cries which have nothing whatever to do with the particular business in hand. That has been the policy of the House and Government and the principle on which I have been elected from year to year and on which I have been so loyally, and practically unanimously, supported, both in the House and country. It is quite unnecessary for me to say that at the last election I went to the country on the same ground, and I can now merely say to the House and country that I propose to carry out the important duties which have been entrusted to me, faithfully and regularly, and fulfill the pledges I have made to my constituency, to my colleagues, to the Legislature and to the North-West."

"In regard to the convention which the hon. gentleman has mentioned, I am not going to stop short at the statement I have made. On the question of Dominion politics I take the ground that I, in common with every member of this House, reserve the right to myself to have and to hold and profess my own political opinions in regard to national and other matters. I do not consider because of my position in this House that I am thereby disfranchised. I claim the right to exercise, and will exercise to the fullest extent, full liberty of speech and action and opinion with regard to federal matters, subject to the promise that I will not introduce them into local affairs."

"With regard to the organization which was created at Moose Jaw, I had the honor of being elected its honorary president. I do not propose to shield myself, as, perhaps, I might, behind what was purely an honorary position. By the honorary presidency of the association then formed I may be held to be in general accord with and adhere to the general principles of the party to which I have the honor to belong. I am not bound to approve of every detail of the policy of the party to which I belong. The party may in the opinion of some of its members be wrong in certain directions without forfeiting in any degree the loyalty of those members. Every party in Canada is quite broad enough and big enough to allow differences of opinion in its ranks. With regard to my position with the Conservative party I am in thorough unison with it, on all questions of principle. But the policy of that party and those principles have nothing whatever to do with my position in this House or with the business of this House. The country must be satisfied that I will faithfully and sincerely and impartially do my duty and fulfill my trust on the lines I have given time and time again to my constituents, my colleagues, to the House and to the people of the Territories generally."

That that statement was satisfactory to the members of the Legislature is best proved by the fact that it received the unanimous support of the House during the session at which it was made and for the two following sessions, in the Autumn of 1903 and 1904. To divide on Dominion party lines in the Local Legislature has always appeared to me to be undesirable, unintelligent and unnecessary. Party names and differences which may have some meaning at Ottawa when applied to the business to be done there, have no meaning at Regina or Edmonton when applied to the business done by the Provincial Legislatures. The work of Parliament is quite different from the work of the legislature. Parliament deals with national affairs, the legislature with Provincial business. Men who disagree on Dominion questions may very well agree on Provincial questions, and differences in the Provincial field should not prevent co-operation in the smaller. Diverse opinions on the tariff are not inconsistent with harmonious action with regard to roads and bridges, schools and the hundred and one practical subjects which fall within the jurisdiction of the Provincial Legislature. This is not a theory but an established fact proven by fourteen years trial of the non-party system. That the result of that system has been fairly satisfactory to the people of the Territories has been abundantly shown by the confidence which has been given to the Territorial Government ever since its formation. Not one word has been said by my new-found opponents against my administration of the local affairs of the Territories. Why then the necessity for a change? Why are men whose administration of public affairs up to the 31st of August is pronounced honest and efficient, unfit to continue work on the 1st of September on the same lines? Is the movement in favor of party lines made in the interests of the people and the province or for the politicians? Are the best men of the country to be separated into hostile groups under names and for reasons which have nothing to do with the business entrusted to them? Are the interests and business of those two provinces to be impeded and neglected in order to allow politicians to squabble and fight and thwart each other because they profess allegiance to Sir Wilfrid Laurier or Mr. Borden? The only answer made to the argument against party lines is that the Conservatives declared for party lines in March, 1903. That is quite true, but what right had the Conservative convention of 1903 to anticipate the action of two Conservative organizations in the new provinces in 1905. And if the Moose Jaw convention made a mistake and took a step which was not in the best interests of the Territories, the true remedy is not to be found in drawing the lines on the other side.

Personally I am free to criticize the Moose Jaw resolution, because I opposed it by speech and vote and refused to be bound by it. It is a significant fact that I was supported in that position at the convention by Dr. Elliott and Messrs. Lake, Connell and Hawkes, four other Conservative members of the Legislature at the time. One month after the Convention, I made the statement quoted above to the Legislature and I have ever since on every public and private occasion, declared my firm adherence to the non-party principle. My position has been perfectly consistent and my attitude in local affairs is the same today as it has almost been. Not one charge has been made or can be made against me for ever allowing partisan motives to influence me in the conduct of local affairs. The men who attack me as a partisan today forget that for years I was attacked by Conservative papers and organizations because I would not use the local machinery for party purposes. Liberals at Moosehead, Indian Head, Qu'Appelle, Regina, Moose Jaw and Calgary cannot have already forgotten the elections of 1894, 1898 and the by-elections of 1901 and the attitude of my party friends towards me because of my support of Liberal colleagues. Against a consistent record of absolutely impartial action for nearly fourteen years is set up the complaint that I took part in Dominion elections and discussed the Dominion question last autumn. Have I not a right to hold and express my political opinions during a Dominion election? Every other member of the Legislature did—why not I?

It was never considered a disqualification for an office for my Liberal colleagues in the Government to be active workers during a Dominion election. The names Ross, Sifton and Bulver do not suggest that. Yet they only did what they had a perfect right to do. Discussing autonomy at the last Dominion elections was not dragging federal politics into the local arena. It was rather discussing a question which up to that time had been a local question, but had been made a Dominion question by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's announcement that his Government would not assent to deal with it at its following session. What more appropriate time for the discussion of a question than at the election of the Government to go to Ottawa to deal with it? I asked the Legislature to try to be unanimous in their demands and avoid everything that might prevent unanimity. But when the Government had agreed to our request to take up the question of Autonomy was I not free to express my opinion as to the sort of autonomy to be given.

I have also been called a partisan because I stood consistently at Ottawa for what I was authorized by the people and legislature to ask for. Certain broad principles were embodied in the demands which I was commissioned to make and I believed that some of those principles were not being regarded in the autonomy bills I protested as forcibly as could. Some of my critics apparently think that I should have gratefully accepted whatever was offered no matter how far it departed from what I had for four years been telling the people of the Territories they were entitled to. That is not my conception of my duty. I conceived that it was my duty to stand out for what I believed to be the rights of the west. Yet I am called a partisan because I was consistent and persistent in my demands. I cannot be accused of any new departure in this standing out for the rights of the Territories, because in earlier days I was obliged to take the same position with Conservative Governments, only at that time with applause and commendation of some of the men who call me a partisan today. To the people of the new provinces I would say: What sort of a partisan do you want to conduct your affairs—the man who will fight for what you have delegated him to fight for, or the man who will accept a refusal with thanks for fear of embarrassing some government at Ottawa.

What suggests the strongest argument against party lines in the provinces. We want governments which are independent of Ottawa. We want men who when western interests are involved will work with a single eye to those interests without regard to party interest or convenience. And this will be necessary no matter what parts is in power for political human nature is much the same on both sides.

I am charged with having within the past twelve months violated most of the principles I have laid down. Charges of that nature that are not based on the experience of most people here. But I have a record to appeal to which sufficiently answers them. One other point upon which I have been attacked is that I have refused to keep up a racial and religious agitation in the west. That is simply not true. I hold with many other men of both political parties that the new western provinces are entitled to equal rights with other provinces in the Dominion. The people in the west are quite as fit to govern themselves as the people of any other part of the Dominion. In my opinion the new provinces have not been given the full rights of self-government which properly belongs to them. With regard to the important matter of education a purely local question the right of the provinces to make their own policy has been restricted in several important particulars. The Federal Parliament has attempted to fix for all time to come not only important points in educational policy but also to restrict upon which provincial money voted for education shall be expended. In doing this the House of Commons overstepped its powers and has supported in this belief by a recent legal constitutional authority. This question does not concern the merits of our present school system or the relative merits of the question of doing so with race on one side. It is the simple question of the right to limit the jurisdiction of the provinces with regard to education.

The question has been removed from Parliament by the passing of the Autonomy Bill and has now become a local question to be settled not by political agitation but by the regular constitutional method of appeal to the courts. It may be argued that as there may be at present no objection to the removal of the question from the jurisdiction of Parliament there is no object to be gained by an appeal to the courts. But the principle of Provincial Rights and of local self-government is at stake and it is important enough in itself to demand vindication without regard to practical considerations. Supporters of the question there will always be agitation until a final and binding decision is given. The question is shortly to be decided. And I am sure that when all rights are finally interpreted and decided by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council all parties will cheerfully and loyally abide by the result whatever it may be. There are other constitutional questions to be settled by the courts before the provinces will be in position to know the exact limits of their powers and responsibilities. The questions of the right of the provinces to the control of the public domain and of the right of Parliament to continue the C.P.R. case.

An appeal to the court involves no popular agitation or a stirring up of religious or racial controversies. It can be made quietly and amicably by a test case to be submitted to the courts. No one can reasonably object to this appeal because every one must be anxious that what is right should prevail and that is the only way in which what is right can be determined. Anyone who opposes this appeal and seeks to impose his own opinion on a much disputed point must be actuated by some other and less worthy motive. My work since I was elected up when I say apply the constitution and then let the proper tribunals interpret it. The Judicial Committee interpret it. If we will and must accept it. But I very much mistake western sentiment if the people of the Territories are willing to accept the young giant provinces should be bound by a constitutional straight-jacket unless a competent tribunal decides that that is the only political course that is justified under the constitution.

There are many important questions for the new provinces to consider which I think will not be determined by the introduction of Dominion party lines and the political agitation and discussion which must follow. Departments will have to be reorganized and new departments will have to be formed. The questions of public institutions, higher education, a more comprehensive system of roads and bridges and other local improvements, transportation both ordinary and by railway including that overshadowing question of a Hudson's Bay Railway, the development and encouragement of our agricultural and other interests, the administration of the Criminal law and the numerous other questions which under the Provincial constitution are relegated to the Legislature all these must be taken up and dealt with. Surely all these matters and their consideration will place a sufficient tax on the time, the energy, the devotion and patriotism of all the best men in the country.

As for myself I stand for non-party government regardless of what any political party or both political parties may decide. To me the welfare and interests of this great western country are and always have been more important than the success or convenience of any political party and if that statement should be questioned I will refer to all public men of nearly eighteen years in these Territories during which I have guarded their interests down then work and thought for their rights as honestly, unbiassed and courageously as I knew how.

PREMIER HAULTAINSTAYS IN SASKATCHEWAN.*Professional Interests Determine His

Course — Announcement Leaves
Conservative Convention Free to Choose a Leader.

Calgary, August 11—It is announced on the very best authority that Premier Haultain has decided to remain in Saskatchewan. It is stated that Mr. Haultain has intimated as much as that to some political friends in Calgary. It is stated further that he is prompted in his decision solely by professional reasons.

The question of leadership of the Conservatives will now become a very acute one. There are at the present time, outside of Mr. Haultain, but four members of the Territorial Legislature belonging to the Conservative ranks. They are R. B. Bennett, J. J. Young and Mr. Shera, of Port of Saskatchewan, and Mr. Lambert, of St. Albert. Mr. Bennett, it is stated by Conservatives, is unavailable.

The names mentioned in connection with the leadership of the party are Mr. Brett, of Banff, and W. L. Walsh of Calgary, with the probabilities in favor of the Calgary man. The name of M. S. McLaughlin has also been mentioned, but it is thought that it would not be good party tactics to open up the Calgary constituency just now.

The Conservative convention will be held at Red Deer next week, when a leader will doubtless be chosen.

right hideons with their loving protests against their prison. The matter was referred to the commissioners.

A petition was presented for a twelve foot cement walk on both sides of First street from Jasper avenue to Mackenzie avenue on the west side and Isabella street on the east side. The request was granted on condition that the width of the walk be made ten feet instead of twelve, as ten foot walks had been granted on cross streets.

The sanitation and relief committee reported that Dr. Tullock states he will pay his account to the public hospital. The report was adopted.

Petitions were granted for a six foot plank walk on the north side of Sutherland street from First street to Boundary avenue at a probable cost of $133, city's probable share $25. A six foot plank walk on the south side of Helmick street from Namayo avenue to Kinslino avenue to cost $295, city's share $20.

The auditors' report was received and adopted, the report stating that the accounts and vouchers are all correct.

Alderman Bellamy reported that the streets and parks committee had examined into the necessity for a bridge at the junction of First street and Fraser avenue over Rat creek and favored the erection of a bridge wide enough to permit of a sidewalk on it. On motion of Alderman May and Bellamy it was decided to build the bridge.

Alderman Boyle reported re complaint about the pound bylaw. He thought it would be difficult to arrange any section of the city to be relieved from the bylaw. If the majority of the people in any section wanted no pound bylaw then give it to them and if their cows got out of these limits put them in the pound. Alderman Picard favored allowing cows to run in the part of the city when the petition presented at last meeting requested. The bylaws and legislation committee agreed to interview the German residents who were protesting against the pound bylaw and bring in a report.

The mayor announced that Alderman McLeod's seat in the council was vacant. The question arose whether or not Alderman McLeod had really resigned or given notice that he would resign, and as to the legality of an alderman appointed in his place if resignation was not properly made. The letter of Alderman McLeod was read as follows:

Edmonton, July 6, 1905.
To the Mayor and Council,
City of Edmonton:

Gentlemen:—
Kindly take notice that it is my intention to resign from your board, resignation to take effect on and after August 1st, 1905.

I am yours truly,
K. A. McLEOD.

The resolution regarding this letter when received referred it back as a communication for Ald. McLeod's reconsideration. Ald. Clark suggested that the alderman who received the next highest vote should be appointed to the place. The general opinion of the council was that the city charter should be amended to relieve the council of electing an alderman. It was decided to leave the matter over.

A request was read from the fire brigade asking for new uniforms for all members of the brigade who have served in it for twelve months. The council was favorable, but it was decided that the brigade should own the clothes, and Alderman Griesbach agreed to move the brigade and arrange a set of regulations to govern the matter.

Alderman May protested that something should be done to our streets, the commissioner of public works should not men on a once, as many of the streets were in a condition that was a disgrace to the city.

I know of no business that requires so much close personal attention as cigar-making. The slightest variation in the grade of the tobacco, the least negligence in the maturing of the leaf, or careless in the making of the cigar, will be noticeable in the smoke.

It is for this reason I give such particular and personal attention to every step in the production of my Pharaoh cigar.

I have produced an excellent smoke, and all my time, energy and knowledge is devoted to keeping it at that high standard. The quality of my

is more to me than several years' profits.

I might make a little more money, and make it a little more quickly by using a poorer grade of tobacco, less experienced workmanship, or any of the many cheapening methods known to the cigar trade, but

I wouldn't do it. The quality of my Pharaoh cigar is a matter of pride with me. I want it to be known as the cigar that is always good.

None genuine unless

FT. SASKATCHEWAN FAIR

Regarding the fair held on Wednesday the Fort Saskatchewan Reporter says:

The show of horses was very good, particularly in the general purpose class. In the heavy draught class, W. Good took first prize with his stallion, Cannon Conqueror II. The F. S. Bercherson Association won the second place. There were 28 entries in the general purpose class, and 20 in the carriage and roadster class. D. Simmons winning first prize in 2 sections with his matched teams. Among the saddle horses that old veteran "Trooper" scored another first. ridden by H. Atkinson, while H. E. Daniel took first place for saddle horse under 15 hands. In cattle the Durhams were well represented, J. Whitson, taking first for aged bull. Sid Ottewill won the President's Cup and $8 for the best herd, T. J. Carscadden being second. A. Lustig's milk cow was first in the grades. Sid Ottewill was first with his herd. T. J. Carscadden showed the best beef animal, J. Whitson, J. J. Bull, H. Irwin and T. J. Carscadden showed some nice sheep. T. J. Carscadden took prizes for his Tainworth prize.

The poultry were poorly represented, J. S. Wilson, Buff Cochins, Dr. Berry's Light Brahmas being worthy of notice. There were only 11 entries in the Poultry Class.

There was a good showing of grains and grasses. Dr. Aylen's Special Prize of $10 for best sheaf of Red Fife Wheat was won by R. Alton; W. Wakeford, Henry Bros. and T. J. Carscadden were also successful exhibitors.

As usual the show of roots and vegetables was very good. Some fine cucumbers were shown. Dr. Bennett, T. E. Attewell, Mrs. Dewar, L. Hamblin, C. Rye, and F. R. Rudd were some of the prize winners in this class.

W. Wakeford was awarded J. W. Shera's Special Prize for butter, H. Irwin being second. W. Wakeford, Mrs. Dewar, F. R. Rudd and A. Lustig were some of the prize winners in the class for Domestic manufactures. The exhibit of Ladies' Work was not so large as usual but what was shown was good. Special mention must be made of Mrs. Spaulding's collection of hand-made lace. Mrs. Spaulding won 12 first prizes and 2 seconds. Mrs. Dewar's water-color painting of a view on the Saskatchewan river was much admired. This lady also took several prizes, as did also W. Wakeford, A. Lustig, M. Webb, Mrs. Studholme and others. Mrs. Green's crazy work quilt took first prize with M. Webb second.

In the class for Children's work Laure Moret and W. Wakeford were the successful exhibitors. The judges in the different classes were as follows: Horses, Duncan Robertson; cattle, W. Webb; sheep and pigs, C. Gallagher; poultry, W. Armstrong; domestic manufactures, C. Nairn; grain, roots and vegetables, A. K. Dewar and Dr. E. Aylen; ladies and children's work, Mrs. McAvoy and M. Chalmers.

The thanks of the directors are due to those ladies and gentlemen who so ably and kindly officiated as judges.

The Ladies of St. George's Guild had a booth on the grounds and dispensed meals and refreshments.

During the day the Edmonton brass band added to the enjoyment of the proceedings.

The baseball game for the $50 purse did not take place, but $30 was awarded to a football game between Clover Bar and Edmonton. These two teams are well matched and the result as given by the referee was a tie, four goals each.

Fort Saskatchewan junior baseball team secured the prize of $20 from Partridge Hills after a hard hitting game in which all kinds of play were shown by both teams. Score 16-7.

After this match, the Fort Saskatchewan juniors then played a two innings game with Strathcona which was won by the juniors by a score of 16-6. It is evident that there is plenty of good baseball material among the juniors.

ALBERTA'S PROGRESS

Calgary, August 10.—His Grace the Archbishop at the meeting of the provincial synod yesterday, spoke partly as follows:

"I heartily welcome you to this meeting of our Provincial Synod. In doing so I cannot refrain from expressing what is uppermost in my thoughts at this moment: Draw not nigh hither, take off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground! These words express the sense of reverence, the sense of shrinking, which fills my heart in standing today for the first time in the place of one who occupied the position of president of this assembly for over a quarter of a century. I cannot presume to fill his place. No one of us can, and I confess I feel lost in attempting it. My good friend, the Bishop of Calgary, when presiding at our last meeting, paid the memory of our late metropolitan a very full and very fitting tribute. It will not be necessary for me to make any further reference to the irreparable loss which has come to the church in the west by the passing away from us of that great light. Suffice it to say that Archbishop Macray was the founder and father of this Provincial Synod. In those early days of the church in this land it owed its birth to his wise and far-seeing statesmanship, his constitution, its acts, its canons, all bear the mark of his master hand. Let it be the endeavor of those of us who are heirs to the fruits of his great work to see to it that with God's blessing we try to carry out his high ideal for the church for which he was willing to give his life, his labors, his all."

LOCAL

—The Eagles will run an excursion to Big Island tomorrow.

—Roman Catholic priests of the districts are holding a retreat at St. Albert.

—A plank crossing is being put down on Jasper avenue in front of the Post Office.

—Large quantities of timber are arriving daily for the C. N. R. bridge at Fort Saskatchewan.

—Voting takes place on Monday on the money bylaws and the bylaw to exempt the Alberta Milling Co.'s property from taxation.

—Wheat was cut at Portage la Prairie and High Bluff, Manitoba, on Thursday. The sample is excellent and will yield about twenty-five bushels to the acre.

—Jasper avenue, from Queen's avenue east is being summer-fallowed today. The top has been plowed up and is being carted away. The result will be a level roadway, which is a thing to be desired.

—The service of Holy Communion in St. Paul's church tomorrow will be at 11 a.m., not 9 a.m., as advertised. St. Paul's Mission tomorrow will be as follows:—Holy Communion 8 a.m., Morning prayer 11, Evening prayer 7.

—Delegates from the several labor unions of the city are requested to meet the street parade committee at the office of Ald. Griesbach on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, to arrange for the inaugural procession on September 1.

—Hon. N. F. Hackett, president of the C. M. B. A. will arrive in the city on Tuesday and remain until Friday. Mr. Hackett in company with Mr. J. Schan of Belleville, is touring the West in the interests of the Association.

—The Evangelistic services conducted in the tent at the corner of Nunavut avenue and Seventh street north continue each week night (except Saturday) at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 4 and 8 p.m. A cordial invitation is given to all.

—Mrs. Cadenhead has put in a bill for $3500 damages to her property in case of the construction of the inclined railway or hoist on First street. She claims that the jarring of the car will destroy the foundation of her house and the noise will drive her boarders away. The case may be settled by arbitration.

—The Young Men's Evangelistic Union will meet on Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Sandison hall. A good attendance is requested, and a cordial invitation is extended to all young men of the different churches to attend. Addresses will be delivered by two of the members, and special music is arranged for the meeting.

—Mr. David Morley shot a black bear, on Thursday, of this week, on the farm of Mr. Wm. Humberston, of Clover Bar. Bruin had cultivated an appetite for Mr. Humberston's fall wheat, and he was not to be blamed as it is of the finest in the land. The animal weighed about 150 pounds. This is the second bear shot in Clover Bar within a month.

—J. A. Burkholder brought in yesterday a bunch of fall wheat, sown on August 17th, 1904 and harvested on August 9th, 1905. The straw is of good length and the length and weight of the heads testifies to the excellence of the grain. The estimated yield is from 40 to 50 bushels per acre. Mr. Burkholder also brought some fine samples of alsike and timothy.

—Three horses and three cows are occupants of the pound today. The other evening the Chief of police was called to the pound to witness a meeting of loving cows, howling calves, weeping women and irate men as the police keeper vainly endeavored to straighten out matters, with the assistance of the constable. Grievous in this locality are protesting against the pound remaining in a residential locality.

—The city council has decided to give free light to all the citizens who have it installed in their homes or places of business, on the evenings of August 31 and September 1, so all the lights can be turned on and the city brightened for the celebration. The meters will be read on the 31st and on September 2, and no charge made for what they measure during that time. This is a splendid move and will add much to the attractiveness of the city. Many of the business men purpose erecting electric decorations in front of their places of business, and a large illuminated arch will be built on Jasper avenue. The city will be a blaze of light on this memorable occasion.
